BACKERS GAIN NEW HOPE FOR FUTURE OF OPA

Price Agency Survives Fight with Minor Wounds, But Big Push Coming.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Congressional battlers for keeping price control alive shed some of their gloom today as OPA came through the first house banking committee voting with fewer wounds than some had expected.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla), who said earlier "It looks like OPA will be amended to death," told newsmen, "I believe now OPA will be continued in a shape that will work."

The administration has yet to weather a battle royal on the house floor, where opposition may be stronger than in the committee.

Vote for Repeal

That group voted yesterday to repeal OPA's program requiring manufacturers to make low cost clothing. It also approved a plan for the gradual lifting of price controls as supplies of scarce items come into balance with demand.

Today the committee, meeting behind closed doors, turned to amendments proposing to set up a formula for closing out subsidy programs. The administration currently is asking congress for $2,651,000,000 to continue these premium payments, particularly on food. Their design is to keep retail prices down even as production costs rise.

Another decision the committee still must make is whether to recommend the full year extension of OPA asked by the administration or a nine-month lease on life as proposed by Rep. Wolcott (Mich)., senior Republican member.

Rep. Brown (D-Ga) solved the biggest dilemma before the committee. when he came forward with his "decontrol" amendment. It takes away from OPA major authority to decide when to take price ceilings off individual items and puts this responsibility squarely in the lap of President Truman.

Reject Industry Plan

The committee rejected, 15 to 9, a proposal by Wolcott to give industry advisory groups rather than government officials a larger voice in determining when various ceilings should be lifted.

The committee adopted a second amendment by Rep. Brown which requires OPA, in determining ceiling price on cotton and wool cloth, to take into account the actual price of the raw cotton or wool or the parity price, whichever is highest.

Brown told newsmen his amendment would result in no appreciable increase in cloth prices and would bring out larger production.

NEGOTIATIONS LAG IN 2 OHIO STRIKES

AKRON, O., April 4—Another round of negotiations was scheduled today in Akron's transit strike.

Representatives of the Akron Transportation Co. and the CIO Transport Workers union conferred for seven hours yesterday and federal conciliator Jack P. Walsh reported "some progress" had been made.

Approximately 400 bus and trolley operators left their jobs Monday when their contract expired, asking wage increases of 2 cents an hour, a 42-hour basic work week and a pension plan. The company has offered a six-cent hourly raise. Under the old contract the rate was 98 cents.

ALLIANCE, O., April 4—The Stark Transit Co., which operates interurban bus service through Alliance, Sebring, Salem and Canton, and the CIO Transport Workers union failed to reach a settlement of a wage dispute in a negotiating conference last night.

Twenty drivers on the line have threatened to strike if the company does not accede to wage demands by next Wednesday. Now receiving 80 cents an hour, they ask an increase of 17 cents.

$13,000 Fire Sweeps Morral Foundry; Plant To Be Rebuilt

Fire today put the General Castings Co. at Morral temporarily out of business. A blaze which broke out at 4:30 a. m., shortly after the night shift workers had gone home, gutted the interior of the main foundry building and badly damaged the outer walls and the roof. Total damage was estimated at $13,000.

The building was completely ablaze when the Morral fire department was called. Firemen extinguished the fire in 45 minutes using three lines of hose.

Fire Chief C. D. Faurot said the cause could not be determined although the fire was believed to have started in the core oven room. Company officials gave faulty wiring as another possible cause.

The entire contents of the one story tile block building were destroyed. Their value was placed at $5,000. Equipment and work in progress, among which were mouldings for the Marion Power Shovel Co., made up the contents.

Company officials said the loss was covered by insurance and that plans would be made to rebuild. The walls are intact and part of the roof may be salvagable. They estimated the job would require six weeks.

Chief stockholders of the company are the president L. C. Midlam and R. P. Murphy.

Hope Fades for Wave Victims

By The Associated Press

HILO, HAWAII, April 4—School teacher Marsue McGinnis of Oxford, O., recounting from a hospital cot the "horrible" tidal wave that nearly swept her to a watery grave, held out little hope today that three of her missing teacher-friends ever would be found alive.

"They couldn't swim," said Miss McGinnis, who with two small children was rescued from the sea eight hours after the waves struck. They clung to a life raft dropped by a rescue plane.

Miss McGinnis lived in a beach cottage with teachers Faye Johnson of Vinton, Va., and Dorothy Drake of Columbus, O., and Helen Kingseed of Sidney, O. She said they saw the waves approaching as they started to their jobs at Laupahoehoe school.

"It was a horrible thing," she told newsmen yesterday.

"The first wave came up over the edge of the peninsula. The second came nearer, and then the big wave hit the house and knocked it around.

"I remember seeing some children playing on the playground before the wave struck.

"Helen, Faye, Dorothy and I were swirled around by the water and the cottage collapsed. The last I saw of Dorothy she was naked and trying to climb on the roof of the house, which was being carried to sea."

She said some of the children clung to wreckage for a few minutes, then disappeared beneath the water.

Besides the teachers, 25 pupils are missing.

1 DEAD, 4 HURT NEAR GALION

Crash Is Fatal to Mt. Gilead Woman; Two Others Hospitalized.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 4—One woman was killed and four other persons injured in an automobile collision Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. on the Galion-Bucyrus road, at the Dice road intersection, about one mile west of Galion.

Mrs. Nora Baker, 67, of Route 3, Mt. Gilead, was fatally hurt in the crash. Her body was taken to the Volk funeral home here and later removed to Craven's funeral home in Mt. Gilead. She died of a skull fracture and internal injuries.

Mrs. Baker was riding in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. V. M. Schofield 34, of 248½ South Market street, Galion, and the other occupant in the car was Mrs. Harless Baker, 34, sister-in-law of Mrs. Schofield, and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Nora Baker.

Report Is Awaited

The attending physician, had no report of the injuries of Mrs. Harless Baker Wednesday night and would be unable to give out a detailed report before 1 p. m. today. He said that her condition was fairly good at City hospital where she is a patient. Mrs. Schofield was treated and released. She will re-enter the hospital today for X-rays.

The car in which the women were riding east toward Galion, collided with another driven by Mrs. Beulah Haas of northwest of Galion. Mrs. Haas and her son, Elvin, 6 were driving from the north, off of the Dice road, on to the Bucyrus-Galion road, Route 19. Mrs. Haas suffered bruises and nervous shock and fracture of the end of her spine. Her son received a bad cut on the ear and the side of his head. A Galion physician treated them and they were returned home.

The impact sent both cars off on the south side of the highway down the road embankment about five feet. Both cars were badly damaged and had to be pulled out by an auto wrecking outfit.

The accident was covered by the Crawford county sheriff.

Visited at Bucyrus

Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Nora Baker and Mrs. Harless Baker had spent the day in Bucyrus, visiting Mrs. Harless Baker's mother, Mrs. Blanche Stevens. They were returning to Galion when the accident occurred. A black and white bird dog, in the Schofield car, answering to the name of "Lady" was lost after the crash.

Mrs. Haas was on the way to the home of her brother, William Sherer, southwest of Galion, where she planned to take the school bus into Galion and take the school children home. She is a substitute driver for her brother.

Mrs. Nora Baker was born Oct. 18, 1878, in Morrow county. Her husband, Delbert Baker, died nine years ago.

She was a daughter of Charles and Anna Foss Windsor of Morrow county.

Surviving are one son, Hagless Baker of Route 3, Mt. Gilead; three daughters Mrs. D. T. Bending of Mt. Gilead, Mrs. Burton Windsor of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. V. M. Schofield of Galion. There are 11 grandchildren, nine great grandchildren, and two brothers, William Windsor of Cleveland, and Alvin Windsor of Marengo, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Hessinger of Povonia, O. Mrs. Baker was an honorary member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Mt. Gilead.

PEACE AT HAND IN HARVESTER'S LONG WALKOUT

Agreements Reported on All But One Issue; Showdown Pushed in Coal Crisis.

By The Associated Press

Settlement appeared imminent today in one of the nation's longest current strikes, the 10 weeks old work stoppage by 30,000 CIO Farm Equipment Workers employed in International Harvester Co. plants.

While government labor officials looked hopefully toward an end of the country's major labor dispute, the work stoppage by 400,000 AFL soft coal miners, negotiators on the Harvester company's strike were reported in agreement on all except one issue.

The issue still under debate as representatives of the company and the union met with federal conciliators in Washington was reported to be allowance rules for piece workers under which they would get average earnings for time lost during machinery breakdowns or similar slack periods. More than half of the 30,000 employes involved are piece workers.

Union Concessions

Negotiators said the union was reported ready to scrap its maintenance of membership provision and the company to have agreed to maintain a dues checkoff system and to pay shop stewards for time spent handling grievances. Wages are not an issue, an 18-cent hourly wage increase having been agreed upon.

The strike started on Jan. 21 at plants in Chicago, East Moline, Rockford and Rock Island, Ill., Richmond, Ind., and Auburn, N. Y.

In the soft coal dispute, operators threatened to force a showdown on the wage and hour demands by John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers. Lewis, in three weeks of contract talks, has refused to discuss these issues pending an agreement "in principle" to his proposals for a health and welfare fund and for improved mine safety

Seek Vote Today

A spokesman for the mine owners said they intended to press for a vote today on their resolution calling for immediate consideration of the wage-hour issues.

The shutdown of the mines spread idleness to the steel, railroad and other industries. President Truman said a prolonged

400 GO ON STRIKE AT BUCYRUS PLANT

Pickets Surround Swan Rubber Co. Factory.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 4—Between 400 and 450 persons employed at the Swan Rubber Co. remained away from their jobs today as a strike closed the plant at 11 p. m. yesterday, pickets surrounded the building today.

The strike, which has been threatening the company for nearly a month, involves a dispute over wage increases between the United Rubber Workers (CIO) and the company. Union members voted to strike Sunday, Feb. 17, by a reported vote of 87 per cent, but until last night negotiations had been under way between the union and the company.

Hope for a settlement waned late yesterday when rumors spread through the plant that the 3 p. m. shift would be the last. When the 11 p. m. shift reported for work about 50 pickets surrounded the plant and prevented workers from entering. There were no reports of violence.

The picket line today had diminished to about 16, although no one was reported to have entered the company and all machinery was idle. There were no reports today that negotiations were in progress.

The rubber company manufactures rubber hose, tubing and small rubber tires and employes between 400 and 450 men and women.

Manhunt for Fugitive Slayer Spreads Into Northern Ohio

Probe Story Condemned Men Played Cards with Guards Before Break.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Earl McFarland, condemned rape-slayer today pitted the cunning he learned on Guadalcanal against the combined efforts of police and FBI manhunters.

The 24-year-old ex-Marine has been at large since dawn yesterday when he and Joseph D. Medley staged a spectacular death house break after overcoming two guards. Medley was recaptured after a seven-hour hunt.

The circumstances of the daring break set two investigations in motion, one by the justice department and another by a special congressional committee. Rep. Herbert (D-La) of this group assailed "conditions in a jail where murderers can walk in and out with apparent abandon."

Card Game Bared

A revised story of the escape came out when jail officials disclosed the two death row guards had released McFarland and Medley from their cells for a game of cards before the slayers overpowered them and stripped them of their uniforms.

Previously one of the guards said Medley forced him at gun point to unlock his cell door.

McFarland was convicted of the Oct. 5, 1944, rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl, Dorothy Berrum. Originally sentenced to die last August 31, the ex-Marine's execution was stayed pending an appeal.

Medley was found guilty of killing Mrs. Nancy Boyer, red-headed Washington divorcee, after an all-night poker party in her fashionable apartment here March 6, 1945. He also was under indictment in the slaying of another redheaded woman in New Orleans and Chicago police wanted to question him in connection with the death of a third red headed woman. Medley's execution was set for April 30, but he too has appealed his conviction.

Ohio Police Follow Hitchhiker Clue

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 4 — The hunt for Earl McFarland, condemned rape slayer who escaped from the death house in a Washington, D. C., prison, was taken up by the FBI and police in northern Ohio today after a discharged sailor reported picking up a hitch-hiker closely resembling the convict.

Dewitt Whittaker, 20, of nearby Bedford, told police in the suburb he had picked up the hatless and coatless hitch-hiker in Jamestown, N. Y., yesterday as Whittaker and his mother, Mrs. Robert Whittaker, were returning from a trip to Meadville, Pa.

Whittaker said he left the hitch-hiker out of his car in suburban Mayfield Heights, on the south-eastern edge of Cleveland, at 6:30 p. m. last night.

Later Whittaker saw a newspaper picture of the escaped McFarland. He then notified Bedford authorities.

RAILROAD RATE BID FORECAST

16-Cent Wage Boost Expected To Bring Fight for Hike in Freight Cost.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 4—The nation's Class I railroads, directed by two arbitration boards to increase wages of 1,320,000 workers 16 cents an hour—which union officials termed inadequate—were expected to ask for a boost in freight rates to compensate for the pay boosts.

As one union spokesman disclosed new wage demands would be made on the 130 lines as soon as possible, the Santa Fe railroad said it would appeal immediately to the interstate commerce commission for higher freight rates. Similar action by other lines was regarded as certain.

The wage hikes for members of 15 non-operating and three operating brotherhoods, retroactive to last Jan. 1, will amount to about $400 a year for each worker. The non-operating unions had asked increases of 30 cents an hour; the operating groups demanded boosts of $2.50 a day.

There will be no delay in the new wage scale becoming effective, said Bert M. Jewell, chairman of the 15 unions representing 1,100,000 non-operating employes, as the award was final and not subject to further review or to approval by the federal wage stabilization board.

Spokesmen for the three operating unions representing the firemen and enginemen, the conductors and the switchmen, said they had not decided yet whether to join the non-operating groups in seeking additional wage increases.

The pay boost does not apply to members of two operating brotherhoods representing the trainmen and locomotive engineers. Their demands for a 25 per cent wage hike and changes in certain working rules are being reviewed by a fact finding board here.

SOVIET PLEDGE TO WITHDRAW ARMY WINS OK

Vote Comes on U. S. Proposal To Wind Up Case; Australia Files Protest.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 4—On a motion by U. S. Secretary Byrnes, the security council today shelved the Iranian case until May 6—but the decision came only after Australia's representative had blasted Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's walkout and accused the council of failing to do its duty.

Slight, peppery, graying Lt. Col. W. R. Hodgson cut short round after round of praise for the proposal put forward by Secretary of State Byrnes by saying that he would refrain from voting and reserved the right to reopen the Iranian case May 6 or any time before that.

The Byrnes resolution, accepting as unconditional Russian promises to get their troops out of Iran by early May, provided for deferring any further action until May 6, then leaving it up to the council to call for reports on the situation.

Hodgson declared the council should not treat an appeal to it "merely as an incident in a chain of political circumstances."

He declared the deliberate boycott of the council's discussions on Iran by Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko had "prejudiced the work, efficiency and authority of the council."

The council's course should have been, he said, to make a full investigation of the case and get complete "documentation" on all issues involved in it before taking any decision.

In short order Egypt, Brazil, Britain, Poland and Mexico lined up behind the Byrnes resolution. French Ambassador Henri Bonnet stated France's agreement, making a council majority.

The Byrnes resolution took note of the Russian assurances that troops would be evacuated from Iran within five-six weeks of the start of their removal on March 24.

Accept Red Promise

It accepted the Russian promises as unconditional.

Since withdrawal could not be completed any earlier than the specified time, Byrnes said, the council should accept the Russian statement and, in effect, shelve the case.

Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, Russian representative, was absent as usual.

However, finish of the Iranian case, vastly complicated for the council by Gromyko's walk-out a week ago, would allow him to return almost immediately to the council's chambers. He announced he was absenting himself only from the discussions on Iran.

Sees No Need Now

While Russia had asked a delay in the case until April 10, Iran had pressed for immediate full discussion on its merits. Byrnes said that while the security council had gone ahead with it thus far, he now saw no need to raise the merits of the issue.

Members of the security council, with Gromyko absent, met privately and informally late yesterday, reviewed the case, presumably heard Lie's report on Ala and obtained a general understanding on today's procedure.

Sequence of Events

The events that broke the back of the crisis were these:

1. Gromyko, on behalf of the Soviet government, advised the council in a letter read at yesterday's public session that Russian troops would be out of Iran in a month and a half from March 24. That would be about May 6.

2. Hussein Ala, who had restated Iran's complaints against Russia in a similar letter to the council, was asked by Byrnes what action he thought the council should take in view of Gromyko's letter.

Ala replied, in effect, that if Russia would guarantee unconditionally to get her troops out by May 6, Iran would consent to having the security council shelve the case, except that he would like it kept technically on the agenda so that if necessary it could be reopened instantly.

3. All this information was thrashed out at the closed meeting of the council members yesterday afternoon. While they deliberately refrained from making any sort of "agreement" on it, the weight of opinion left no doubt among those present that the issue was all but settled.

Woo Gromyko Again

The same informal meeting furnished plans for a council action which may provide the occasion for Gromyko's re-entry into full-scale United Nations work.

An arrangement was made that

Foxhole Ballet Coming Monday As Season's Final Number in Concert Association Series

Nickel coins contain 75 per cent copper.

First Dance Unit Formed To Entertain Troops Overseas Scheduled for Marion Performance.

As the third and final concert of the season presented to the city by the Marion Community Concert association, the Foxhole Ballet, group of five dancers and two pianists, will appear at the Palace theater next Monday night at 8.

Though memberships in the association were secured last summer and tickets will not be available at the door, discharged veterans, who were not in Marion to take out memberships then, may get single admission tickets for this program through the secretary of the organization, Mrs. Richard Jennings. Servicemen still in uniform will be admitted without charge.

Brought to Marion through Columbia Concerts Inc. of New York City, programs are presented to the Marion public by the Community Concert association here with the purpose of securing "the best in music" for the city's concert season. Members of the Foxhole Ballet company are all artists in their own right. Each has appeared in dance and dramatic productions as soloists. Members of the group, Grant Mouradoff and company, include dancers and musicians of various nationalities.

The Foxhole Ballet takes its name from the fact that it was the first dance unit organized to play to American troops overseas. Sent abroad in November, 1944, under auspices of USO-Camp Shows for a six months' tour, the group first went to Italy, appearing all the way from Sicily, Palermo, Naples, and Rome, to Pisa and Florence, then moved on to France, Belgium, and Germany. Everywhere the GI response was "terrific" and the length of the original tour was almost doubled, and it "Might have gone on forever—we would be there yet, only crime stepped in and I turned detective," explains Grant Mouradoff.

The Foxhole ballet had arrived in Belgium . . . the five dancers, the two pianists, and the mobile unit . . . two Steinways, footlights, three spotlights, public address system, loudspeaker, five trunks of costumes, one year's clothes and uniforms. At Liege the huge truck containing all their belongings was parked in front of the special services offices. The dancers had gone inside. When they came back, five minutes later, the truck with everything in it—from pianos to ballet slippers—had disappeared. Mouradoff, hardly believing his eyes, dashed over to the police. Equally at home speaking French, he became liaison man between local police, Army and USO officials. He was almost shot on one of their sorties into nearby villages as he stood unarmed in a bright doorway, while his police protectors hid behind bushes to storm the house. Finally a gang of AWOL soldiers who had been preying on Allied supply lines was uncovered and Mouradoff was offered a job as detective, which he declined with real thanks. They did not succeed, however, in recovering the company's equipment and the remainder of the tour had to be cancelled. Only one Steinway was found, a new and costly instrument. The thief had sold it for $40!

List of Artists

As for the artists, they are five "top-ranking," well-known, solo dancers headed by Grant Mouradoff, and two famous concert pianists. Mouradoff was at one time premier dansour of the Metropolitan Grand Opera, and of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. The four ballerinas are Sonia Wolcikowska, Tatiana Semenova, Betty Burge, and Ginee Richardson. The two pianists are Victoria Crandall and Moreland Kortkamp.

Sonia Wolcikowska first came to America as prima ballerina with the Polish Ballet at the World's fair and later became premiere danseuse with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. Tatiana Semenova has been solo dancer with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo for four years. Betty Burge, American born ballerina, was also a member of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo while Ginee Richardson, a musical comedy favorite, danced in the Broadway productions of "One Touch of Venus," and the "Vagabond King," and toured as solo dancer in "The Merry Widow."

Mouradoff, of Russian and Persian background, after extensive training abroad and success in outstanding European dance groups, came to America in 1938 and completed three seasons with the Metropolitan opera, one with Ballet Russe in New York and on tour when Gino Baldini of USO Camp-Shows persuaded him to organize the first ballet troupe to go overseas to entertain GIs during the war.

Appeared in "Oklahoma"

Sonia Wolcikowska will be remembered as the scene-stealing "Girl Who Falls Down" and cancan dancer in last season's touring "Oklahoma!" The Polish ballerina, who was born in London, is a brilliant classic dancer as well as comedienne and has also danced with the Ballet Theatre and the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo since coming to this country six years ago.

Betty Burge, 18-year-old North Carolina girl can jitterbug along with the best of her high school crowd; she 'somehow' won the North Carolina state contest for oboe students a few years ago; she plans the piano even better than she swims; she is a former drum majorette at the Winston-Salem R. J. Reynolds school.

Ginee Richardson, a native of Tennessee, is at 23 a Broadway musical comedy dance favorite and veteran of several hit productions. Her professional debut was made at 16, and she has danced both in this country and on tour with D'Andria's National Opera company in Puerto Rico.

Music for the Foxhole Ballet is furnished by two gifted pianists, Victoria Crandall and Mortland Kortkamp, both of whom accompanied the troupe overseas last year.

Native of Cleveland

Victoria Crandall, who makes her permanent home in Wicasset, Me., was born in Cleveland, and is a graduate of Rochester's Eastman School of Music. She has accompanied such artists as Jessica Dragonette and others. She also gave concerts in South America and the West Indies before leaving for Europe in the autumn of 1944 with the Foxhole Ballet. While in Rome the British Army newspaper, the Union Jack, nominated pretty Vicki Crandall for its "pianist pin-up girl."

Mortland Kortkamp was born in Alton, Ill., but was brought up in California. She was educated in Pasadena and lived in Sierra Madre before going to New York.

Miss Kortkamp has toured the country alone and with other artists. When the war broke out she went overseas for six months with the first USO-Camp Shows concert troupe, playing North Africa and Italy. Later she returned with the Foxhole Ballet.

The Foxhole troupe pioneered ballet with such success in Europe that Mouradoff and his group were booked for a coast-to-coast tour of the United States this season, covering over 90 cities with "the ballet American soldiers cheered."

60-CENT WAGE BILL NEARS SENATE OKAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—A compromise new industrial wage base of 60 cents an hour moved close to senate approval today. But a last-ditch fight was on to kill a presidentially opposed amendment designed to boost farm prices.

Many hours of informal conferences the past three days apparently convinced backers of the original bill they could not drum up the votes for the new minimums they aimed at—65 cents immediately, and 75 cents within four years. The present statutory wage base is 40 cents an hour.

A sudden shift in the legislative maneuvering late yesterday posed the first decision on substituting the compromise 60-cent rate.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) opened the way for that amendment, offered by Senator Ellender (D-La) by withdrawing his own proposal to retain the present coverage of some 20,000,000 workers, instead of broadening it to take in 3,500,000 workers in industries affecting interstate commerce.

Senator Russell (D-Ga), author of the farm price amendment which was adopted by a 43 to 31 roll-call vote Friday, expressed his determination to see that it was not removed by indirection.

"There is going to be a clear-cut up or down vote on my amendment before final action is taken on this bill," he told a reporter.

It would revise the farm parity price formula by including the cost of farm labor. Stabilization officials contend it would raise America's food bill $3 900 000 000 or more a year.

President Truman, who previously sent word to the senate that he would be compelled to veto the whole bill if the farm price amendment were adopted, reiterated his disapproval yesterday.

2 GALION EMPLOYES CONTINUE ON STRIKE

Declare They Will Hold Out; Defy City To Fire Them.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 4 — The two-employe strike in the city light and water department office continued today with little change in the situation. Mayor Amann said today there was not likely to be any change for two weeks, and that he would attempt to find replacement for the striking employes.

W G Sanderlin, accountant, and Miss Florence Berry, bookkeeper, who refused to report for work yesterday after city council had granted them what they considered inadequate pay raises, continued on strike and defied Mayor William Amann to fire them. They indicated that they would remain out for two weeks if necessary. They also said they had secured legal opinion assuring them that they had the right to strike and to be reinstated in their jobs

Work in the water and light department office with collection of water and light bills due, remained tangled The services of Mrs Agnes Fabian Miller were secured yesterday to aid City Service Director K A Polster

Mayor Amann said he would oppose any further increase in pay for the two employes and would veto any such ordinance passed by council. Mr. Sanderlin and Miss Berry were granted $5 and $10 monthly raises, respectively, by council Tuesday night along with similar raises for some 70 other city employes Sanderlin is holding out for a $25 raise and Miss Berry for a $20 raise A supplemental ordinance to give them the requested raises was voted down by council Tuesday night. Sanderlin has held his job for 9 years and Miss Berry for 18 years.

It was reported today that Mayor Amann had asked Sanderlin to resign at city council meeting Tuesday night and that Sanderlin had refused. The mayor questioned Sanderlin's right to a city position because he is not a resident of Galion or Crawford county but now lives in Richland county. Sanderlin retorted that the mayor had previously told him he could hold his job if he moved to Richland county He lived in Crawford county at the time he was hired The civil service regulation governing the situation is not known at present

Army Day Posters Made By Pupils Go On Display Here

Posters, made by pupils of the public and parochial schools were placed in windows of downtown business places today as the local Army recruiting station carries on its final plans for the observance of "Army Day," Saturday, April 6. The awarding of prizes in the poster contest, the sounding of regular Army bugle calls and the display of Army equipment on Saturday will highlight the observance of the day here. The day's activities are being arranged by Capt Edwin Rackham, local U. S Army recruiting officer.

The posters, made by pupils of the eighth to the 12th grades inclusive, were judged by a committee last night and winners will be announced and awards made on the "Army Day" program over WMRN, Saturday The winning posters will be placed on display in the windows of the city's five banks and loan associations, following the announcement of the awards

The city will have the atmosphere of an Army post Saturday when the 13 bugle calls, heard daily by men of the regular Army, will be sounded throughout the day, from the courthouse belfry, by Laurie E. Feaver of 335 Willow street, Harding High school's outstanding cornetist. The calls will start with reveille at 8 a. m. and conclude at 10 p. m. with taps. Members of Company M, Ohio State Guard, will have a display of staff cars and weapons at the courthouse in the afternoon and approximately 20 guard members will be present to give demonstrations

While the Marion Army Air Force Specialized depot will not participate in the local observance there will be a radio broadcast over WMRN at 7 45, calling attention to the significance of the day

DIXIE SENATORS HIT NEW BOWLES ORDER

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Southern senators flung a torrent of hot criticism at Chester Bowles today for ordering Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to approve a cotton regulation aimed at blocking clothing price increases.

They called for the stabilization director's resignation, termed his action a "dammed outrage," said he was "making farmers the goat," and contended he had jeopardized OPA's life The agency is bidding for a full year's extension of its price control powers beyond June 30.

Anderson, too, was the target of a pot shot. Said Senator Maybank (D-SC):

"I am indeed sorry to see that the agriculture department under Mr. Anderson has completely surrendered to the OPA."

This was a reference to the cabinet officer's approval of an OPA order requiring larger down payments on cotton purchased for future delivery. It goes into effect April 9 Bowles has contended the order is necessary to check speculative trading in cotton, which he says has forced up cotton clothing prices

Anderson signed the cotton margin order yesterday after Bowles directed him to do so He had refused to put his name to it voluntarily and the attorney general's office ruled the measure would not be valid without the secretary's signature

Iran Leftists Start Drive as Reds Move Out

By The Associated Press

TEHRAN, April 4—Tudeh (leftist) party candidates began campaigning for the next parliamentary elections today as Russian troops were reported moving out of Iran in a manner which a government spokesman described as satisfactory.

Under Iranian law elections cannot be held as long as foreign troops remain on Iranian soil. At least seven Tudeh deputies in the last parliament, however, left Tehran to campaign in the provinces in the expectation that an election would follow the Russian withdrawal.

Abounasr Azod, Tudeh propaganda director, confidently predicted sweeping gains for his party, whose opponents charge it is Russian-supported.

He asserted the party was "no more Soviet-sponsored than leftist parties in England or America."

Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda minister, said the Russians had promised to complete the evacuation of Iran early in May "without any conditions whatsoever."

Firouz told a press conference he had been advised that two or three shiploads of Russian troops already had departed through the Caspian sea port of Pahlevi, about 150 miles northwest of Tehran.

U. S. Studies Change in Argentine Policy

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Congress heard today that the administration was considering a significant policy change in this country's relations with Argentina.

Full details have yet to be worked out, but Secretary of State Byrnes was reported to have assured influential members of the senate foreign relations committee that a readjustment would be made to meet latest political developments.

These persons, who can not be named, said Byrnes did not particularize. But they regarded his reference as directed at the recent election of Col. Juan D. Peron as Argentina's president, despite state department criticism of the past performances of Peron and his military colleagues.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR EX-GOV. DAVEY

By The Associated Press

KENT, O., April 4 — Former Governor Martin L. Davey, 61 was laid to rest in Standing Rock cemetery yesterday afternoon after funeral services attended by hundreds of his friends present and past officials of the state and humble citizens of his home town.

At the Bissler funeral home where the services were conducted it was estimated that 450 crowded into the building and more than 1,000 others listened to the services outside

After the burial ceremony Ohio's present governor, Frank J. Lausche, said

"I am sure his heavy responsibilities during the grueling hours in which he was governor fatigued him tremendously. The rest which I know he wanted and needed has come to him."

Rev Dana MacDonald, pastor of the First Christian church conducted the funeral services saying Davey "had a quiet, constant interest in the church until the end, and from the church came a certain Christian idealism that permeated his life He ever had a heart for the poor and a hand for the needy."

Strike Shortages Hit Two Ohio Industries

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 4—Strike-born shortages curtailed industries on both sides of Ohio today.

Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., was operating with only half of its 5,000 employes, and Works Manager William Paris said the slump resulted from a shortage of frames from the strikebound Midland Steel Products Co of Cleveland Paris said the jeep assembly line was down

Effects of the coal strike slowed work at the Carnegie Illinois Steel Corp Ohio works at Youngstown Three blast furnaces were banked late yesterday. Five open hearths were suspended and the big Bessemer converter plant was expected to close because of lack of fuel.

Coal Strike's Effect Hits More Workers

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 4—Unemployment in steel mills and fuel-carrying railroads continued to spread today as one of history's quietest strikes involving a major industry kept 400 000 AFL–United Mine Workers away from the soft coal pits for the fourth day

The Solid Fuels Administration reported use of "roving pickets" at West Virginia strip-mining pits but this was the only apparent activity in the mine areas of 26 coal-producing states

The impact of the strike was reflected quickly in the steel industry, with Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a subsidiary of U S steel, announcing 5 000 workers had been idle as the company pared operations to conserve fuel.

The mine shutdown, which followed termination of UMW's contract April 1, was having an even more direct effect on railroads that normally haul heavy shipments of coal.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad reported several hundred men employed on its engine and train crews had been laid off automatically because of the strike

At Denver, officials of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad laid off 200 crewmen, engine house forces and yardmen.

Pennsylvania railroad officials reported some coal-train layoffs in Pennsylvania and West Virginia; the Chesapeake and Ohio said 13 of 16 train crews on its Big Sandy division in Kentucky were idle.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam and Lud, War and Peace

Like everybody else, folks in our town talk about the best way of preserving peace. Some believe one thing, some another. But when it comes to Lud Denny and Sam Hackney—each has a self-invented Plan.

Talking things over at Bill Webster's, Sam and Lud got so worked up arguing against each other's Plan, they almost came to blows. Now each one thinks the other is a public enemy—for not agreeing with his Plan!

Seems to me there's the problem in a nutshell! No plan in the world can lead to peace—'til folks respect each other's views; allow for differences of taste; and learn to live with opposite opinions.

From where I sit, real peace begins with people—neighbors living tolerantly beside neighbors—regardless of who votes how, or who drinks beer or cider, or who wears city clothes or overalls. Peace starts with Tolerance!

NEW FIRMS OFFER TO BUY "INCH" LINES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Big Inch Gas, Inc., a new corporation headed by Charles H. Smith of New York City, has offered to buy the government's 24-inch diameter "Big Inch" pipeline for $40,000,000, the federal power commission reports.

Another new corporation headed by Smith, Big Inch Oil, Inc., has offered to buy the 20-inch diameter, Texas-to-New York "Little Big Inch" pipeline and use it for transportation of petroleum products, Big Inch Gas disclosed.

The "Big Inch," used to carry oil from Texas to New York during the war, would be converted for transporting natural gas if the FPC approves the application. Big Inch Gas, Inc., said $30,000,000 would be spent on converting the wartime built line.

The British organized the first "Airgraph Service" to maintain contact with troops in Egypt and India via microfilm.

NEWARK PROTESTS DILLON DAM PROJECT

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., April 4—The Licking Valley Protective Association, contending Newark, O., could be endangered by the proposed Dillon dam on the Licking river north of here, plans to place an alternate plan before the house flood control committee next Thursday with the demand it be adopted.

About 150 members, meeting at nearby Nashport last night, unanimously approved a plan calling for 20 small flood control dams on Licking tributaries like those built throughout the Muskingum river watershed, with still smaller dams near tributary headquarters for water conservation.

The group voted to send representatives to Washington with the proposal next week.

William N. Ellis of Zanesville, who headed a group of engineers hired by the association to draw up the alternate plan, said that in an extremely heavy rain, such as occurred in 1913, the city of Newark could be imperiled by the huge pool planned by U. S. engineers.

He said the federal plan included creation of a permanent lake submerging 1,500 acres of land which when filled to capacity would flood 10,000 acres and extend the lake 22 miles behind the dam.

The capacity pool, combined with a heavy head of water from Buckeye Lake, could endanger the city of Newark, he asserted. Buckeye Lake is drained by the south fork of the Licking river.

William Brailer, chairman of the association's executive committee, said residents of Newark would be asked to support the substitute plan.

Mackenzie Urges Europe Put Curb on Black Market

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We are hearing a great deal about the plague of hunger which is sweeping Europe and Asia with increasing intensity, but curiously enough little is being said about one of the chief contributing factors—the black-market.

Experts of 18 nations are meeting in London to figure out methods of meeting the food crisis, and former President Hoover is expected to appear there this week and give the conference the benefit of his survey of the European situation. But no matter what progress is made along other lines, the problem will be far from solved unless ways are found of dealing with the black-market which fattens on the suffering and even starvation of the unfortunate.

DewittMackenzie

Of course it's one thing to talk about eliminating black-market and it's quite another to knock out these insidious institutions of the Devil, which work by stealth and traffic on weakness of human nature. Still, they can be largely hamstrung by vigorous measures, as has been demonstrated by countries like England and Switzerland.

Vital to America

The European black-markets are a vital matter to the western hemisphere as it embarks on a relief program. Food is scarce the world over, and we have a right to assurance that our contributions won't fall into the hands of the racketeers either directly, or indirectly by replacing any foreign country's indigenous supplies so that the black-markets can grab them.

Black-markets or no black-markets, we've got to send aid to hungry countries. We can't delay until these illegal marts are wiped out, but we can insist that governments inaugurate drastic measures —big fines and imprisonment—against these leeches.

Take the case of our French ally, for instance. There's widespread undernourishment because the legitimate stores lack stocks with which to honor the food ration coupons held by the little man and his family. I assume that the United States, Canada and the Argentine will see that France and other needy countries get relief.

Black Market Boons

However we have every right to note that, while her legitimate markets are short of stocks, black-markets are booming in every part of the country. As a matter of fact, France is one vast black-market. Even school children are acting as agents on a large scale.

If the housewife has the money for exorbitant prices she can buy but she probably doesn't have the money. So it goes. You can buy steaks with trimmings in swagger hotels and restaurants—if you have the money. But the little man and his flock go hungry.

Real Murder Climaxes Gangster Movie Party

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, April 4—A real-life slaying today climaxed a party celebrating conclusion of a gangster movie.

Police found Edward W. Gray, 31, a studio electrician, dying beneath a film set backdrop.

Det.-Sgt. Stanley W. Johnson said Gray, who succumbed in a hospital, was murdered. Attendants said his skull was fractured, his jaw broken and his palate pierced.

As is often the case on conclusion of filming a picture, the cast and crew of "Angel on My Shoulder" joined in a party at the general service lot. Paul Muni, gangster-star of the movie, was host. Others attending included the leading lady, Anne Baxter, and supporting players Kurt Kreuger and Joan Blair, studio sources said, but all had departed by 10 p. m., several hours before Gray's body was discovered.

Another electrician was being questioned.

Marion County Farmer Arrested by Sheriff

Russell Berridge, 39, Big Island township farmer, was being held on an open charge by the sheriff's office today pending further investigation.

He was picked up by sheriff's deputies this morning at a neighbor's home on request from his wife, Sarah, who claimed he had beaten her, Sheriff Roy Retterer said.

A divorce petition, charging Berridge with neglect and cruelty was filed in common pleas court today by Bartram and Bartram, Mrs. Berridge's attorneys. Mrs. Berridge also has asked the court for a restraining order preventing her husband from molesting her.

REPORT PROGRESS IN CANCER DRIVE

Campaign for $25,000 Gets Under Way Here.

Good response to the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce cancer drive to raise $25,000 during April for treatment and control of the disease was reported today by Chamber officials.

The local drive is part of a nationwide cancer control program, with 30 per cent of funds raised remaining in the city for use in the cancer clinic at Marion City hospital.

Industrial, and commercial establishments, churches, organizations and clubs will be solicited. Committee chairmen are expected to make their first reports within the next few days.

The local campaign officially opened Tuesday night with a banquet in Hotel Harding. Principal speaker was Don H. Ebright, state treasurer and state chairman of the American Cancer Society campaign.

ONE GOOD ACCIDENT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 4—Patients at Berea Community hospital will enjoy venison steaks as the result of a traffic oddity in Berea. Edward J. Crawford reported a 160-pound buck jumped from bushes along Rocky River drive, struck the side of his car, and was killed. State game officials gave permission for turning the animal over to the hospital.

MILLIGAN TO SPEAK AT G.O.P. PICNIC

Tuesday Night Event Planned by Republican Women.

An indoor picnic and rally in the interest of the primary campaign will be held by the Marion County Republican Women's club at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 9, at Republican headquarters.

Speaker for the program will be Fred J. Milligan, candidate for lieutenant governor at the primaries, May 7, and special guests will be the candidates, city and county officials and their families.

Serving as the program committee are Mrs. Dale Lawrence, Mrs. Robert Stief, Mrs. Raymond Furniss and Mrs. E. H. Moore. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Furniss and Mrs. Moore and there will be a community sing.

Mr. Milligan, a former resident of Wyandot county, is a veteran of World War II. A former assistant attorney general of Ohio, he also served three years as assistant dean of men at Ohio State university, one year as executive secretary of the Administrative Law Commission of Ohio and drafted the administrative procedures bill enacted by the legislature. He was president of the League of Young Republican clubs of Ohio, director of the speakers bureau and director of research at Republican state headquarters during the campaigns of 1936 and 1940. He announced his candidacy Oct. 22, the day he was released from military service.

Clerk's Office Fees Show Increase Here

Fees received by the clerk of court's office during March were the largest in several months, according to Clerk of Courts Elmer E. Smith.

March fees totaled $1,247.55, Clerk Smith said, and include money received from automobile titles, court fees and fishing licenses. Fees for February were $885.65 and for January, $819.21. For March, 1945 fees totaled $817.25.

Clerk Smith attributed the increase last month to the large number of automobile titles issued by his office and the increased number of court fees received. The money goes into the general fund.

BRITISH HERO DIES—Field Marshal Viscount Gort, above, 59, who commanded the British expeditionary forces to France and the retreat to Dunkerque early in World War II, died in Guys hospital, London, after a long illness. A former chief of the British imperial staff and a distant cousin of King George VI, Gort resigned as commander in chief and high commissioner for Palestine last fall because of ill health.

SPORTING GOODS STORE WILL OPEN

Former Service Man Plans New Business Venture.

A new sporting goods store, to be known as Hinton's Sport's Shop, will be opened soon in the Palace theater building at the location formerly occupied by the Linda Lou dress shop. It will be operated by Don Hinton, a recently discharged veteran, and his wife, Alice Smith Hinton.

The store is now undergoing alterations and will, when it opens, carry a complete line of sporting goods, Hinton said today. Remodeling is being done by Frank Postell.

Hinton, a native of Urbana, was released from the army air corps last September after four and a half years service, three years of which was spent in the Pacific theater. He was an administrative technician. Before entering the army he was county manager of the Farm Bureau cooperative at Mt. Gilead. His wife, the former Alice Mae Smith, was employed by the Farm Bureau here.

Says Many Thought Waves April 1 Joke

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 4—An Army officer in Hawaii reported that many residents there thought the report of an approaching tidal wave was an April Fool's joke.

"The news of the approaching tidal wave was received on April 1," Lt. William F. Bohannan told his father, Col. R. C. Bohannan, in an amateur radio conversation.

"Many people thought it was an April Fool's joke. That's the reason many were caught unawares. I know, because I was under that impression myself."

Child Musical Prodigy Lays Success To Raw Vegetables

By The Associated Press

PHILIPPA SCHUYLER . . .
Raw vegetables her dish . . .

How does a 14-year-old girl compose prize winning symphony music?

Prize-winning composer Philippa Duke Schuyler, daughter of Negro newspaperman - novelist George Schuyler and a white mother, whipped out her answer quickly.

"Those themes don't just fall down on you without preparation. If I sit around waiting for inspiration, I don't get any. I have to go to the piano and work for hours. Most of my composing is done in the evening. Sometimes I find I have several ways of doing one theme. When I do that it's never the right theme. When I find the right one, there is only one way to do it, and there is never any question in my mind."

The words spilled out in a high treble voice. Then Philippa turned to the piano and poured out the music of "Manhattan Nocturne," and "Rumpelstiltskin," which won first and second prizes totalling $150 in the (Detroit) Grinnell Foundation's contest for young composers. "Rumpelstiltskin," she says, is to be part of a symphony based on four well known fairy tales and legends. Philippa played with brilliance and dash, her eyes black as twin pools at midnight against her clear skin. Close by hovered her mother, the former Heba Jannath, Hollywood bathing beauty, blonde and rosy-skinned.

What is the mother's explanation of this early flowering of a talent in a child who read and wrote at two and began to compose before she was four?

Diet Is Answer.

"Diet." Mrs. Schuyler answers, positively. "What Philippa is and does is due to my diet and her diet of natural raw foods not tampered with by man.

"Philippa lives on raw fruits, raw vegetables in salads, cheese, milk with raw eggs and honey stirred into it—in other words food whose life quality has not been killed. She used to eat raw meat as our family does, but she stopped ten months ago. Now the only meat she eats is fish and chicken lightly steamed.

"There's another thing. We bought wooden ABC's for Philippa to teeth on. As soon as she could talk, she would point to a letter and ask, 'What's that?' I'd tell her. That way she learned her ABC's by the time she was eighteen months old. At two years and four months she could read and write simple words. From that she progressed to reading nursery rhymes and books. Naturally there were books all over the house. But we made no effort to push her.

"But our friends, teachers and writers, said Philippa never would have done what she did if we had not pushed her, and they disapproved. So we decided to give her creative opportunity in a field in which we were not trained, music. When she was three we got a piano teacher for her. She learned to play very quickly and before long was making up music to fit her nursery rhymes. By the time she was four she was playing her own little compositions. In the next few years she won a number of prizes for her piano playing. At 11 she began to study formal composition. Now she orchestrates her own music for symphonies."

Studies with Tutor.

Besides her composing and four hours piano practice a day, Philippa (a grammar school graduate) studies high school work with a tutor, plays chess against herself, reads Dostoevsky, Flaubert, Anatole France, Nietzsche and Schopenhauer, feeds her cats and chatters about all of them in a lot of four-syllable words. Here are a few excerpts from her conversation:

"We rescued our cat from a cruel grocer. The poor thing was so inhibited by that grocer in her childhood that she never meows. She just makes a queer kind of sound. . . . I love Schopenhauer. Oh, not his opinions on women, naturally. They're kind of old-fashioned. Mother says he probably never knew the right kind of women. . . ."

Standard Oil Co. Holds Sales, Service Meeting

Company personnel from Marion, Mt. Gilead, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, Kenton, Richwood, Marysville, Delaware and Plain City attended. The meeting was under the direction of C. H. Carroll was reported to have sent a seven-page letter of resignation setting forth the conditions to which he objected. The informant quoted the letter as saying:

"While the foregoing conditions may be largely accidental and coincidental, they nevertheless strongly suggest the deliberate creation of a condition that tends to assure the conviction of the enlisted personnel and a few junior officers, and the acquittal of officers of higher rank." Spring Tonic; Good To Eat!

GRANDMA'S ICE CREAM ROLL . . . Small fry love it . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Once upon a time, and not so very long ago, either, we used to give small-fry "sulphur 'n molasses" in the spring time Modern science discounts the sulphur angle, but admits that molasses, so rich in iron, has genuine value in combating nutritional anemia, one type of 'spring fever."

If you can possibly think of a handsomer, more attractive way of presenting a spring tonic than in old-fashioned molasses cake, its food value supplemented by good dairy vitamins and minerals, in a yummy ice cream roll topped with custard sauce—you tell me what it is' Deluxe cups of cocoa with this molasses roll make a perfect flavor combination and add a lot to the nutritional side, too.

Grandma's Ice Cream Roll

1 quart vanilla ice cream (bulk), 4 eggs, ¼ cup sugar, 1-3 cup old fashioned molasses, 1 cup sifted flour, ¾ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mace, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Place vanilla ice cream in freezing unit of refrigerator until ready to use All the other ingredients for the cake must be at room temperature.

Break eggs into mixing bowl: place over smaller bowl of hot water, with bottom of top bowl not quite touching the water Beat eggs with rotary beater until froth changes to a true foam—about a half minute. Add sugar and molasses gradually, beating after each addition, about four minutes Sift together remaining ingredients; fold into egg mixture (¼ cup at a time). Pour into a greased shallow pan (12 inches by 17½ inches), lining bottom only with heavy brown paper, well greased and lightly floured. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees), 7 to 8 minutes.

Remove cake from oven Loosen from sides of pan with a spatula. Turn out on slightly dampened towel. Quickly remove brown paper. Roll up cake and towel together. Cool slightly.

Unroll cake and spread with ice cream. Turn up end of cake about one inch, lift cloth high enough to raise turned end of cake off table and start to roll. Wrap cake in waxed paper. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator to harden ice cream. Serve with custard sauce. Decorate top with cherries and citron wedges if desired.

Old-Fashioned Custard Sauce

2 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, dash of salt, 1 egg, beaten, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Mix flour, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Add egg and blend Then add the milk and cook over boiling water. Stir until thickened—about five minutes Cool. Add vanilla. Makes a cup of sauce.

Lincoln Park Gets "Dressed up" for Gala Opening Day Ceremony

Seating for 4,000 Planned; Roof Still Big Headache

By JIM DARBY

Lincoln Park will have its face lifted before its rendezvous with Baseball Commissioner "Happy" Chandler and Co., Laurence at the opening day baseball game April 30. L. A. Axe, R. A. Lau and Hugo Malo, all Cardinal officials, are in charge of the renovation activities and are working daily to get the park into shape.

A seating capacity of 4,000 is being arranged. The grandstand will seat 2,000 and enough extra bleachers to double that amount are being borrowed from the Upper Sandusky school.

Seats Are Replaced.

All old seats in the grandstand have been replaced and the others given a fresh coat of paint. The outfield advertising signs have been retouched and the concession stands redecorated. Dressing rooms have been reconditioned and all box seats painted.

The committee in charge has bought all new wire netting for the guard nets and provided the park with a new public address system. D. A. Brown will install the new loudspeakers in time for their use at the opening day ceremonies.

Several construction firms have been contacted about providing a roof for the grandstand but owing to the shortage of materials, none will agree to do the job. Officials said they expect the work to be done some time this summer.

Concession Man Back.

Ben Kerner of Buffalo will again have concession rights at the park. He will bring two or three assistants with him.

Both the diamond and the field have been scraped and rolled and reseeded. The committee reports that the grounds have already been worked down into the best shape they have ever been in.

Dayton Gets Youngest Ump

Dayton's Indians, who finished a close second to Marion in the advance ticket sale contest, will get the services of organized baseball's youngest umpire for their showing. Henry McGowan, 18-year-old arbiter for the Ohio State league, will preside over Dayton's opener April 30.

Indians Rarin' to Go

Frank Parenti, Dayton's new manager, is a baseball man from way back, according to Jim Nichols of the Dayton News. Like a good manager, he won't commit himself on the team's chances until he has had a pretty good look at his boys.

The Indians will open spring training Monday and Parenti expects pretty close to 100 hopefuls will turn out for the baseball tryout school. Recruits will come from all over, the long distance champion being Bill Pasnake from Idaho Falls, Ida.

One ambitious youngster, Joe White from Ottawa, read about the school in a Toledo paper, hopped a bus for Dayton and arrived three days ahead of time.

24 Answer Harding's First Call for Track Workouts

Twenty-four boys responded to Harding's first call for track workouts yesterday at the stadium. Coach George Niemi said today that more are expected and that no cuts would be made in the squad.

Workouts this week will be confined to running and walking an average of three miles per night. The weather is still too cold to run the risk of pulled muscles with other events.

Weather permitting, starts, hurdling and shot put practice may begin next week. Coach Niemi said the discus and pole vault as well as high jumping and broad jumping will have to wait better weather.

While schedules with other schools are still in the tentative stage it is hoped that at least six practice meets, the first in mid-April, can be booked.

Shanghai Sports Fans Get Real Lowdown

The stories had been lifted from the April Fool's day issue of the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes by a number of Shanghai papers and reprinted as serious news.

The Chinese editors failed to see a box (upside down on an inside page) explaining the stories were all "gags."

Swimming Boasts New Records Despite War

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, O. — The war years and the resulting shortage of manpower may have caused a decline in the quality of football, baseball and most other sports but that doesn't apply to swimming, says Mike Peppe, and he ought to know.

Peppe has been turning out great swimming teams at Ohio State university for years and he brought out the record book today to prove that swimmers enjoyed a field day during the years when triple threat backs and .350 hitters were at a minimum.

"Everybody admits that football, baseball, track and other sports were far below par during the war," says Peppe, "but swimmers not only managed to keep their sport alive but passed through one of the most remarkable record-breaking periods in history."

Mike emphasizes that every world or American freestyle record from 50 yards to one mile was broken during the war years.

Here is how Peppe enumerates them:

Hank Kozlowski, Northwestern university, set a new 50-yard record of 22.1 seconds at Columbus, March, 1943.

Alan Ford, Yale, established a new mark of 49.7 seconds for 100 yards at New Haven, Conn., March, 1944.

Bill Smith, swimming for the Alexander Community Settlement House of Maui, T. H., and later an Ohio State star, broke records for 220, 440 and 880 yards over a 55-yard course at New London, Conn., August, 1942. His times were 2:10.7 in the 220, 4:38.7 in the 440 and 9:54.6 in the 880.

Keo Nakama, the little Hawaiian who wrote so much swimming history at Ohio State, set a new mile record of 20:29 at New London, August, 1942.

At Great Lakes Naval combination of Jerry Kershner, Wally Ris, Dobson Burton and Smith set a new American record of 3:24.4 for the 440-yard free style relay at Columbus February 1944.

Adolph Kiefer of Chicago established a new American record of 3:23.9 for the 300-yard individual medley relay at Ann Arbor, Mich., in March 1944 and Kershner hung up a new mark of 1:21.4 for the 150-yard free style at Columbus in February, 1944.

Peppe admits swim performances were helped by the stress laid on that sport by the Navy but he insists:

"Swimming is one sport that doesn't have to apologize for the caliber of its competition during the war. Those record breakers plus such boys as Harry Holliday of Akron, O., contributed to a brilliant chapter in the history of the sport."

Clark Griffith Declares War on Outlawed Mexican Circuit

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., April 4—Clark Griffith, the man who led organized baseball's successful fight against the outlaw Federal league, is ready to wage full scale warfare against the money-wielding Mexican league by barring for life all players who jump south of the border.

The venerable owner of the Washington Senators of the American league said in an interview at Orlando, Fla., that he firmly believes players who desert United States leagues for the Mexican circuit will and should be barred forever from baseball in this country.

A report, published today in the Miami Herald, quoted an unnamed source as saying such action would be taken shortly at a joint meeting of club presidents.

Both Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Will Harridge, president of the American league, said they knew nothing of any meeting.

"Were it otherwise it would be like a bank president reinstating a cashier who had embezzled $100,000," Griffith said.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler recently cited an old baseball law barring players who join outlaw clubs from seeking reinstatement in organized baseball for at least five years.

Griffith said that the law also provides that the club from which the player jumped must approve his reinstatement.

"Those players who remained loyal should not have to submit to the ordeal of competing against or associating with violators of their agreements—and I believe that they will be spared the ordeal," the Washington owner declared.

"The places of these men will be filled by other men of equal or greater ability. That is the history of baseball, but regardless of that, the discipline of baseball must be preserved. Were baseball to adopt a policy of leniency with players who jump contracts, the structure of the leagues would fall apart. Chaos would replace the well-ordered operation of the game and the leagues."

Mexican Hints At Mutiny of Dodgers

By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, April 4— Robert Janis, a scout for the Mexican Baseball league, returned from Florida today and predicted "there will be mutiny in the Brooklyn Dodgers camp unless something happens" and said "somewhat of the same situation exists with the New York Giants."

Janis' statement followed last night's offer by Jorge Pasquel, president of the league, to bet major league club owners $2,000,000 that his circuit would not collapse.

"Nearly all the Dodgers are fed up with Branch Rickey (president of the Brooklyn club) and are eager to come to Mexico," Janis declared.

As Pasquel exhibited 17 cablegrams from unidentified U. S. players seeking information, Janis commented: "All they needed was some really important player like Vernon Stephens (formerly of the St. Louis Browns) to break the ice. Now they all want to play here. It is a matter of selecting."

"The whole thing will help the players in the United States get better pay," Janis continued. "Everybody knows Stephens was worth the $17,500 for which he was holding out with the Browns. Why, he led the American league in home runs last year."

Pasquel said that for this year "we still need about a dozen players who will probably come within the next four weeks."

"Next year," he added, "we'll get about 50 of their players."

Survey Reveals Every Team Suffers from Injury Jinx

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 4—An unprecedented harvest of mishaps has left major league baseball managers virtually in the dark on their probable lineups for opening day 12 days hence, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Only on a few occasions have the managers been able to put a semblance of a regular lineup in the field in the wake of the most serious epidemic of injuries and ailments since the inception of spring training in Florida 38 days ago.

There isn't a major league team which hasn't had at least a dozen casualties thus far and some of these are of a serious nature. Joe Gordon, star second baseman of the New York Yankees, suffered spike wound to his left hand which probably will keep him out of the lineup for another month.

Rookie Star Hurt

Walter (Hoot) Evers, Detroit's rookie centerfielder, broke his left ankle and a thumb in an exhibition game and may be out two months.

Mickey Rocco, Cleveland Indians' regular first baseman, broke a bone in his right foot and will be out for several weeks.

The latest victim is Mike Sandlock, who was expected to bear the brunt of Brooklyn's catching with Mickey Owen off to the Mexican league. He fractured the first finger of his throwing hand yesterday.

The list of injuries of a less serious nature runs into the dozens.

Trainer Jim Tadley of the Philadelphia Athletics explains it thusly:

"With each camp overflowed with ball players, the boys think they have to make good right off the bat and foolishly go all out at the start."

List of Casualties

These players currently are out of action due to injuries:

Brooklyn—Pete Reiser, separation of the breast bone and collarbone; Billy Herman, sacroiliac condition; Augie Galan, pulled muscle in left arm; Cookie Lavagetto, fractured bone in right wrist and calcium deposit in right elbow; Sandlock, broken finger.

New York Giants—Bill Rigney, sprained ankle; Harry Feldman, bruised right leg; Mickey Witek, torn finger nail and swollen knee.

St. Louis Cardinals—Ken O'Dea, sacroiliac condition; Johnny Beazley, sore arm; Terry Moore, pulled leg muscle.

Philadelphia Phillies—Frank McCormick, lame back.

Boston Braves—Bob Detweiler, wrist injury; Art Johnson, shoulder trouble.

Chicago Cubs—Bill Nicholson, back pains.

New York Yankees — Gordon, spike wound in hand; Bill Dickey, broken toe; Atley Donald, sore arm.

Detroit — Evers, broken foot; Barney McCoskey, pulled back muscle; Pat Mullin, strained side; Eddie Mayo, pulled back muscle; Eddie Lipon, infected foot.

Boston Red Sox—Al Flair, foot trouble; Eddie Pelligrini, back ailment; Eddie McGah, bad finger; Bobby Doerr, leg injury; Ken Chapman, twisted left knee; Van Heflin, sore arm.

Cleveland—Rocco, broken foot.

Chicago White Sox—Ed Smith, sprained shoulder; Dario Lodigiani, twisted finger.

St. Louis Browns—Steve Sundra, twisted knee.

Washington—Gil Coan, blistered feet; Jeff Heath, leg injury.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 4—At the last checkup in minor league headquarters at Durham, N. C., 3,192 ball players had been reinstated to active service from the various inactive lists...Most of them came off the National Defense Service list, following their discharges . . . Since there'll be about 40 minor leagues in action this season, requiring nearly 6,000 players, there still are plenty of jobs for boys who can hit and field...Weary Buffalo sports writers already are suggesting that the American Bowling Congress tourney should be trimmed down by eliminating booster teams or by holding qualifying events... Seems they're overlooking (1) that almost any bowler can get hot and cop some of the prize money and (2) the big attraction of the ABC is that it's a good excuse to get out with the boys.

Anybody want to bet that Eddie Arcaro won't have a terrific headache when he rides in the Kentucky Derby May 4?....Eddie, tied with Isaac Murphy and Earl Sande with three Derby victories, will have his choice of the Maine Chance entries. So all he'll have to do will be to pick his own winner...George Taliaferro, Indiana back last season who is getting his basic training at Camp Lee, Va., has had offers from several other colleges but plans to return to Indiana and Bo McMillin as soon as the Army lets him...The only catcher who ever worked every inning of every game for a whole season (despite those consecutive game records) was Malachi Kittridge of Worcester, eastern league, in 1900. And you'll have to take Ernie Lanigan's word for that ..The Janesville club of the Wisconsin State league has signed William Tell of Chicago. Suppose he's an apple knocker?

Little Bonnies Crash into Big Time

By The Associated Press

Even if St. Bonaventure college doesn't win a game next football season, it still will have fielded its most famous team. That's because the 87-year-old Catholic school has startled the sports world by hiring it first "big time" football coach—Hugh Devore, who led Notre Dame last year. Devore's Irish team won seven and tied Navy and lost only to Army and Great Lakes. Above the Very Rev. Thomas Plassman, OFM, president of St. Bonaventure, hands Devore a football as a token of good luck. Devore got a three-year contract.

FISHER GETS PITT JOB

By The Associated Press

The appointment completed the Pitt coaching staff. Fisher, who was just discharged from the Navy, graduated from Columbiana, O., High school. Fesler, newly named head coach, said Fisher had not been assigned a specific coaching assignment.

INDIANS FOLD TENTS FOR NORTHERN TOUR

Lose Final Game in Camp to Kansas City 5-3.

By The Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 4—It was packing day today for the Cleveland Indians, who on Saturday will open a nine-game tour with the New York Giants, starting at Jacksonville.

The Tribe's final exhibition at its training camp here was a 5 to 3 loss—and to a minor league team, the Kansas City Blues. That made 12 losses against 10 wins for the exhibition season to date.

For the first six innings yesterday, with Steve Gromek sidewheeling on the mound, the Indians held the Blues under control, but Kansas City broke loose in the eighth and ninth against Tom Ferrick, the losing pitcher, and Pete Center. Three of the Blues runs came in the eighth and another in the ninth.

Reds To Try Rookie

By The Associated Press

DOTHAN, Ala — The Cincinnati Reds and their current traveling companions, the Boston Red Sox, meet in an exhibition game here today.

Rookie George Burpo was Deacon Bill McKechnie's overnight selection to handle the Redleg pitching. Charley Wagner takes the mound for the American leaguers.

Cincinnati split a double header with Boston yesterday at Leesburg, Fla., with home runs deciding each contest.

Outfielder Dain Clay bounced an eleventh-inning homer off the left field score board to break an 8-8 tie in the opener and give the Redlegs a 9-8 victory.

A two-run homer by Tommy McBride in the sixth round of the seven-inning nightcap provided the 2-1 winning margin for Boston.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...meets all requirements"
Mr. C. E. Rhodes, owner of Lakeside Greyhound Kennels, Route # 1, Joplin, Missouri, says: "I have never had a dog food that starts my puppies on as sturdy growth as Kellogg's Gro-Pup. It meets all requirements in my kennel as a basic food for dogs of all ages."
MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's Gro-Pup because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.
Kellogg's Gro-Pup is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.
Get this scientifically formulated dog food in 3 forms: Ribbon, Meal, or Pel-ets —at your grocer's or pet shop. Made by KELLOGG'S of Battle Creek.

Programs on the Air

The statistical experts who make periodic surveys of network program popularity—Hooper and Cab or Crossley—continue to show Fibber and Molly in the lead. But they differ considerably on positions held by most others in the top ten.

For instance, Hooper gives second place to Charlie McCarthy, with Bob Hope dropped to third. Cab still maintains Hope second, putting McCarthy third. Hope had been in the lead, or right on the edge, up to recent weeks.

Hooper gives Jack Benny fourth, with Cab favoring the Radio Theater, which Hooper places ninth. Cab has Benny tenth.

Both agree on Fred Allen as fifth, rating the other leaders in this manner:

Hooper: Walter Winchell sixth, Screen Guild seventh, Bing Crosby eighth, Red Skelton tenth.

Cab: Crosby sixth, Winchell seventh, Skelton eighth, District Attorney ninth.

EARLY GAINS FADE IN TODAY'S SESSION

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 4—Buyers swarmed over the stock market in the early part of today's session but there was little follow-through and extreme gains running to 4 or more points eventually were reduced or cancelled in the majority of cases.

The initial rush was sufficient to put the ticker tape a minute behind for a brief interval and the first hour's volume was one of the heaviest in months. The pace soon slowed as profits were cashed in most departments.

Extension of Wednesday's late rally was credited by brokers mainly to a revival of inflation psychology due to growing wage boosts, optimism over Washington's business statistics and the somewhat brighter international picture. Many doubters remained, however, as the coal strike still posed a threat to industrial earnings.

Sandow and LaDue Fight Tonight

A ten round fight will help headline the big wrestling card tonight at the Marion Armory. This grudge fight is an aftermath of the main go last week when LaDue and Walberg were wrestling and Sandow was acting as referee. LaDue slugged Sandow and received a stiff right to the chin from the referee, which LaDue claims caused him to lose the match. There were a lot of words after the bout and they both agreed to put on the gloves to settle their differences.

Danny Savich, former All-American football player from the University of Utah will meet Renee LaBell, popular Canadian, in the two hour wrestling match for the best two out-of three falls.

Andrew Simons and Sammy DeLong, two Marion boys, will wrestle the prelim at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid) Gen. 60c. Reserved Ringside 85c. Kids under 14 years 35c. Call 2745 after six for your best ringside.—Adv.

LONG RANGE HOUSING PLAN WINS APPROVAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Long range housing legislation, aimed at a goal of 12,500,000 new homes in the next 10 years, was approved unanimously today by the senate banking committee.

It provides easier government loans and credits designed to encourage construction by private industry and calls for continued direct government aid for low rent housing.

The long range plan is independent of the emergency legislation to provide homes for veterans.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) announced the committee, by a 7 to 4 vote, modified a provision demanded by the AFL and the CIO.

This was a clause requiring that "the wages or fees prevailing in the locality" must be paid on any construction done with the aid of government loans.

It was made inapplicable to individual FHA-financed homes, but was left in so far as public and large scale housing construction is concerned.

LA GUARDIA DEMANDS BLACK MARKET WAR

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 4—F. H. LaGuardia, UNRRA director, told European food ministers in a message today they "must stamp out" black markets.

The message to a conference of representatives of 17 European countries was read by Dr. W. G. Welk, economic adviser to UNRRA. LaGuardia was unable to attend.

European farmers "should be compelled" to give up grain they are holding back on the farms, said R. A. Furness of Great Britain, chairman of the combined food board requirements subcommittee.

Canada and the United States, with shipments of 775,000,000 bushels of wheat in the current crop year "have made the greatest contribution in the history of the grain business," Furness said.

The first of a series of resolutions presented to the conference called for "all possible means of economy before reducing human consumption."

Other resolutions dealing with the increased extraction rates in the milling of flour, reduction in grain fed livestock and intensive efforts to collect greater stocks from farms were to be submitted for action Friday and Saturday.

Herbert Hoover, on a food mission for President Truman, arrived this afternoon and will address the conference tomorrow.

Typhoon Roars Over Northern Philippines

By The Associated Press

MANILA, April 4—A Navy aerologist today reported a typhoon was crossing northern Luzon and said winds of "full hurricane force" prevailed in the straits between Luzon and Formosa.

The storm was moving at nine knots to the northwest. The aerologist said it might be curving northward toward Formosa.

Manila bay had 35-foot waves which caused a lumber-laden schooner to founder. There was no loss of life.

Lack of communications prevented receipt of damage reports from northern Luzon.

POLITICS IN CAPITAL RETURNS TO NORMAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Politics got back to something like normalcy today with the new G.O.P. national chairman taking potshots at the administration while southern Democrats decided against scalping their own party chief.

The Republican chairman, Rep. B. Carroll Reece, labeled the Democrats "the party of reaction" and praised the G.O.P. as "the liberal party...determined that the people shall run their government."

Reece spoke out last night in a radio interview, during which he retorted to President Truman's earlier news conference indorsement of a published view that Reece's selection was a solace to G.O.P. "stand-patters" and a rebuff to the Willkie-Stassen elements in the party.

On the Democratic side of the fence, National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan appeared to have managed the difficult job of soothing the outraged feelings of a group of Dixie Democrats—and by telephone.

Southern house members had been all worked up over a comment appearing in a recent party publication which they interpreted as casting critical reflection on their support of the stringent Case anti-strike bill.

KEITEL SAYS FRENCH MISSED 1939 CHANCE

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, April 4—Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel testified before the international military tribunal today that only 20 divisions, including reserves, guarded western Germany during the Polish blitzkrieg and "a French attack would have met with no German defense."

"We, as soldiers, were very much surprised that nothing took place except skirmishes between the Maginot line and the West Wall," he said. "Our 20 divisions, included reserves, stretched from Holland to Switzerland. Since an attack did not occur, we believed a peaceful solution was possible in the campaign in the west during the winter."

Keitel, on the witness stand in his own defense, said both Allied and Axis secrets leaked out "through the close connections of the Belgian and Italian royal houses." This he said was a factor in Hitler's war planning.

"We received for instance, a number of reports that Belgium was being subjected to strong pressure by France and Britain to relinquish neutrality * * *," Keitel said. "Hitler told us only a short time in advance of his final decision in the spring of 1940 to violate the Low Countries' neutrality because he feared the Allies would learn of it through the same royal relations."

Veteran Church Worker Addresses Bible Class

T. C. Weir of Columbus, an 85-year-old salesman for the Sharon Manufacturing Co. and an active layman in the Hope Memorial Presbyterian church in Columbus, was speaker at the Wednesday noon Bible class at the Y.M.C.A.

His talk dealt primarily with the relation of youth to Christian religion. In 20 years of Sunday school teaching Mr. Weir has been in contact with more than 300 young people and he spoke on experiences these relationships have given him.

While praising the work of churches, he said some parents expect too much of the church and that the responsibility of the formation of the child's character lies primarily in the home. He also expressed the opinion that social life is overemphasized in some church programs to the detriment of the churches' first mission, religion.

The program for the meeting was arranged by Harry J. Mautz, program director for April.

Garbage and rubbish is collected once a week by the city. The charge is $10 a year, which amounts to about 20 cents a week for both garbage and rubbish, Mr. Uncapher reports.

Costly Nylons Better Than None, Says Solon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Available nylons at $1.65 to $1.95 a pair will please the ladies more than no nylons at $1.40 a pair, ventures Rep. Landis (R-Ind).

He wants OPA to hike the prices on those hard-to-get hose accordingly.

"That's the way to insure enough stockings to go around," he told a reporter.

Landis said that today not only are nylon hosiery manufacturers required to operate at a loss, but buyers are paying less for their stockings.

In 1942 nylons sold for $1.65, he said, while today—many times as scarce—the OPA ceiling is only $1.40 a pair.

He suggested that all-nylons be priced at $1.95 a pair and cotton-topped nylons at $1.65 a pair.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"I THINK it was a hard task for Olga," I said, "but I am sure her motherly pride was more shaken than her royal reaction. It isn't a pleasant thing to realize—and acknowledge to some one else—that your daughter is—"

"Showing all the attributes of a first-class heel," Dicky finished for me. "Whatever you've done these last months without me around to express your more unladylike feelings, I do not know."

"Neither do I," I told him, "although," I added honestly, "you might be surprised if you could have heard me sometimes."

"Don't shatter my illusions!" he implored, grinning widely. "Instead, let's get down to cases about this sweet little scheme of Olina's to put Mary on the spot.

"I suppose," he went on, "that the whole thing hinges on the ring. As I remember, in that old time, Georges gave Mary diamonds—straight from a swanky shop in New York. I gather that Olina, in exhibiting this heirloom ring which the kins of Trees for generations have given their brides, is saying silently to Mary: 'Look at this, you poor sap, and realize that you, as a commoner, never rated the offer of this'!"

"I don't know whether or not she has thought the thing out that far," I said. "But if she has, the cream of the jest is that she is sorely mistaken."

Dicky Alert

"How come?" he asked.

"You remember," I said, "that when Mary and Georges plighted their troth in the old days, neither she, nor anybody else but Olina, knew that he was the heir to the kingdom of Trees."

"'Plighted their troth'," Dicky repeated, looking at me with a quizzical expression that brought a flush to my face. "You do put things so beautifully, darling!

"But please go on with what you were saying."

I went on, with an effort which I was careful not to let him see.

"When the discovery was made, George, according to what Mary told me just now, gave her a description of the heirloom ring, and told her that as soon as he could get hold of it, he intended to put it on her finger."

Laughed Heartily

"No?" Dicky said incredulously. Then he leaned back in his chair and laughed heartily.

"I'll bet Olina doesn't dream of that nifty!" he said.

"That's a certainty," I agreed. "If she did, she wouldn't be staging this scene."

"Well!" he said. "That alters the aspect of the thing. Mary has a weapon fitted right into the palm of her hand, if she chooses to use it."

'Oh, no!" I protested. "Mary never would reveal a reminiscence like that at the luncheon table."

"Leave that to Mary!" he advised, then added with an air of avuncular pride. "She is eminently able to take care of herself, Olina, and the whole situation.

"I'm not worrying a bit about her now," he said; "now that she's forewarned, and has that bit of secret ammunition tucked away. But I am a bit worried about Noel's reaction to the apparent slur against Mary. He'll be seeing seventeen shades of red, and all of 'em vivid."

"I know," I said; "but we can't do a thing about it. After all, there will be only the immediate families present."

"Sounds like a wedding or a funeral," he commented. Then he looked at his wrist watch.

"You said a quarter of an hour for Katharine," he said, "What other gossip can you tell me?"

"I might tell you of a message from Olga to you that I've forgotten to pass on," I said.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Exercise

Exercise is medicine, too.

Since ancient times, exercise has been a basic part of the treatment of many disorders. After disease and injury, exercise may be used to restore strength and vigor. But since here it plays a curative role, it must, like medicine, be of the right kind and taken in doses that are not too large.

In other words, it must be "just what the doctor orders."

In every instance it is important to adjust the exercise to the patient's physical condition and, particularly, according to Dr. Ancel Keys of the University of Minnesota, to the fitness of the heart and blood vessels.

A number of tests have been devised to determine whether or not the patient's heart and blood vessels react normally to exercise. In one of these tests, the patient is placed on a table which can be tilted and it is then determined how the heartbeat and pulse rate react to various changes of positions. Once these facts have been determined, with this and other tests the patient can be instructed precisely in regard to the kind and amount of exercise which he may take.

For example, in such common exercises as walking, the rate and rhythm can be specified in exact detail. Furthermore, the patient can be instructed as to whether he should walk on level ground or on hills.

It is also a good plan to find out the amount of exercise the patient is taking and how much effort he expends in doing so.

As a general rule, exercises which produce no fatigue whatsoever are of little value. A brief period of so-called "setting-up" exercises taken each day, according to Dr. Keys, is not of much value except in persons who may be extremely weakened as a result of disease or old age.

He also thinks that exercises should be pleasurable because otherwise the mind becomes fatigued before any effects of the exercise of the body are achieved. Many times a sick person may just not have the desire to exercise. In such cases so-called passive exercises may be helpful.

For example, there are various types of apparatus which move the arms and legs. While such exercise is not as good as active movements, the effects on the vigor of the muscles, the circulation and breathing are about equal to those obtained from a leisurely stroll.

Persons who exercise vigorously often may be concerned about so-called athletic heart or heart strain. Like any other muscle, the heart is capable of training, and if vigorous exercise is carried out over a long period of time, the heart becomes larger and more powerful. This is no cause for concern.

Active exercise may often be an important factor in building health. But if indulged in to the point of strain it may do more harm than good. Particularly, if it overtaxes the heart it may result in serious and lasting damage.

TO PLAN X-RAY TESTS TONIGHT

Anti-Tuberculosis League To Meet at Dr. E. L. Brady Office.

Plans for a mass tuberculosis X-ray survey which will give examinations to more than 2,000 city and county school students in the upper six grades will be completed at a meeting of the Marion County Anti-Tuberculosis league tonight.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the office of Dr. E. L. Brady, 235 South Main street. Dr Brady is chairman of the league.

Cooperating with the league in sponsoring the survey are the county boards of health and education. The program recently was indorsed by the Marion Academy of Medicine.

The X-ray program will begin on April 23 and last through April 28 with various schools selected as examination centers. Transportation of students to the centers is being arranged by the local school superintendents.

Periods in the examination schedule call for X-rays for those adults who care to take the test. When suspects are found, an enlargement of the X-ray film will be made to determine whether the case is active. Such cases will be referred to family physicians for recommendation and treatment.

The X-ray unit is owned by the National X-ray Corp of East Orange, N J and its Ohio representative is Walter Parrish of Coshocton.

Also coming before the league for discussion tonight will be plans for a future meeting to discuss legislative action in 1947 which would provide four new tuberculosis hospitals in Ohio and a 300 bed hospital at Ohio State university. Regular election of officers will be held.

Expert Has Plan To Correct Army's Misfit GI Clothes

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 4—There's an old Army gag with which soldiers have ribbed sergeants since the days of the Medes and the Persians (and probably earlier, and it goes like this:

"There are only two sizes of clothes in the Army—too large and too small."

And here's a man who wants somebody to do something about it. Not just for doughfaces, but for everyone.

He is Dr. Francis E. Randall, formerly with the Army Air Forces at Wright Field, O.

And that isn't all. He said at a solemn session of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists:

"Not only should I like to see all people able to get hats and gloves in their sizes, but the seat of the truck fit the truck driver and the desk and chair fit the typist."

His solution is that someone ought to take comprehensive measurements of the entire population. Then clothing makers and machinery makers could fit clothing and machinery to people's needs better.

The U. S. Army collected some data for sizing clothing, and so did the Nazis and Japanese, he said, but in general the clothing makers did not have reliable information on which to base the percentage of clothing that should be made in each size.

"In the future, through applied physical anthropology," said Dr Randall, "machines should be fitted to men, taking into consideration their physical characteristics. There is a definite relationship between human attributes and job performance."

OHIOAN DIES IN MISHAP

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O, April 4—A freak accident cost the life of Domenic Jacovetti, 55, as he worked on a sewer project yesterday. While operating a power spade, run by an air compressor, Jacovetti was struck on the back of the head by a heavy piece of clay. The impact threw his neck against the power tool, severing his jugular vein.

Army Answers Critics; Says Defense Keyed To Atom Bomb

By CLARKE BEACH

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 4 — Many able minds are wondering [illegible] Army and Navy leaders, in constructing our permanent [illegible] forces, are preparing against the entirely new kind of [illegible] the atomic bombs and electronic weapons have made [illegible].

[illegible] these critics, including Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, and Senator Capehart (R-Ind) have proposed a thorough study to try to determine whether armies and navies and air forces are as important as before.

Perhaps, they say, more money should be voted to "static defense" (putting defense plants under ground, for instance), to scientific research and military intelligence services, less to traditional army and navy uses.

Alerted by First Bomb

From their conversations our military planners seem to have been already alerted by the white [illegible] thunder of the bomb that fell on Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945.

(Third of a Series)

"If we don't plan to fight the next war with the weapons that even now we can hardly imagine, we'll take on hell of a beating," Col. C. J. Hugh Jr., liaison officer for the army chief of staff with the house military affairs committee, told me.

"The time-space factor doesn't have the meaning it used to have. The development of a long succession of new weapons has changed all that, and I think our military people are well aware of it.

"They are more keenly aware of the need for change than they were after the first World war. For one thing this was a longer war, and they had time to test the new theories. We are studying all the new ideas, and we are contemplating a revolutionary change in our ideas."

One step that has been taken is appointment of a board of top army officers under Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson. For several months it studied the whole defense picture, including the industrial and research phases, and has reportedly just made a report to President Truman.

Proposes Program

Secretary of War Patterson, testifying recently before a congressional committee, proposed a four-point military program:

1. An integrated intelligence service to inform us of war preparations in other countries.

2. An intensive program of scientific research.

3. An industrial mobilization program to keep us stocked with the newest war equipment and which could be rapidly expanded.

4. Military manpower trained to use the weapons.

As for Patterson's first proposal, President Truman on Jan. 22 directed the secretaries of state, war and navy to become the national intelligence authority with another person whom he would appoint later.

To promote scientific research, the President has proposed to congress a national scientific foundation.

The army already has some extensive scientific activities, and the navy has probably the most elaborate scientific organization in the world.

Await Test

Any plans which the navy now has for basic changes seem to be held up pending outcome of the atomic bomb tests on warships at Bikini atoll this summer.

(The question of trained manpower will be considered in later articles in this series.)

No one seems to have given much consideration to the problem of static defense.

"People," one writer reflected, "have lived on the sides of a volcano, even when they knew that someday it would explode and wipe them out."

Good Politics, But Is It?

JUDGED by the rule that the end justifies the means, it is good politics for a coalition of northern Republicans and southern Democrats to defeat the Truman administration on issues wherein they share the same grounds of opposition

A certain amount of coalition is inevitable. It signifies that the grouping of regular Democrats and political whatnots which Franklin D. Roosevelt held together by his vote-pulling power is breaking up into dissident elements, including many conservative southern Democrats.

But it may be questioned whether the end does justify the means and also whether the end itself is not something to be viewed in longer perspective than that taken by congressmen interested only in embarrassing the Truman administration. The ultimate end should be re-establishment of party government and the welfare of the United States.

It may be questioned whether Republicans devoted to the welfare of their party and their country have anything to gain by cooperating with southern Democrats, whose one-party system is a denial of the Republican party's right to exist. Republicans cannot dictate principles to Democrats, but neither can they afford to let it appear that their party has in it anything that might appeal to southern Democrats. It is vastly more important to beat the Democratic party at the polls next November and in 1948 than to embarrass the Truman administration in congress. Republicans will jeopardize their election strength by seeming to share any of the narrow prejudices of southern Democrats.

Nothing Too Good for Veterans

A LITTLE STORY from Bellingham, Wash., about a World War I veteran who would like to trade in the Distinguished Service Cross he won for a chance to buy a farm tractor helps to spotlight a danger in exclusive rights to veterans of World War II.

There are many similar examples growing out of the priority practice of giving preference to the veterans of World War II in the purchase of scarce goods. These will be multiplied by the government policy on building restrictions, for the presumed benefit of World War II veterans. For example, some of the veterans themselves will be handicapped in their efforts to get started in the building business.

The moral is obvious that anything done by government for the exclusive benefit of a special group of citizens may do them injury instead by penalizing other groups on which they depend for a livelihood.

Nothing is too good for war veterans—all of them. But all political gestures of sympathy need to be examined carefully to make certain that there is no concealed boomerang present. The way to help veterans of World War II is not to give them priority on things that are scarce but to give them and the whole country a chance to reinstitute abundance as the secret of America's high standard of living.

Dobbin in Armor Plate

CAVALRY has been going out of style since the Revolutionary war and has been obsolete since World War I. The move afoot in the war department to discontinue it as a separate branch is not hasty. Its use in World War III was so narrowly limited that most cavalrymen never even saw a horse.

The tradition of glamor that surrounded fighters on horseback has been passed on to the two new branches of fighting service that perform the cavalry function—tankmen and aviators. Dobbin has been given the armor plate which became indispensable when war ceased to be fought at close range with swords and began to be found with bullets, artillery shells and bombs. Military historians probably will record that cavalry's last stand was the futile engagements of Polish horsemen and German tanks in the autumn of 1939. When George S. Patton, reared in the cavalry tradition, became the war's tank genius, the transfer of cavalry's function to armored vehicles was complete.

The new branch, in cooperation with aviation, restored to World War II the mobility which is the fondest dream of tacticians. In its heyday, cavalry was mobility. It still could be mobility, except for the vulnerability of man and horse to bullets and shells. When someone develops armor plate so light it can be worn by a cavalryman and his horse, plus a weapon capable of awing all enemies; cavalry will be back in the saddle.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

G.O.P. Control Taken Away from Dewey.

WASHINGTON, April 4—The Dewey people completely lost control of party headquarters in the election of a congressman for the past 24 years, Carroll Reece, as national chairman.

This was not reported but was evident in what went on inside at the national committee election, to wit:

Party people tried some weeks in advance to find what the 1944 candidate, Gov. Dewey, was up to in allowing his man Brownell to resign. He said he was up to nothing. Also he knocked down each name mentioned to him, raising objections to Reece, Danaher and other . The party people concluded Dewey was searching for a strong candidate.

About a week beforehand, Dewey's men got behind John Danaher, the former Connecticut senator, who had been given a $20,000 a year job with the Republican national committee by Brownell They did not see eye-to-eye with Danaher on many issues, as Danaher had been rated an isolationist and had played close to the unions in matters, but they, presumably, thought he would be fair.

Struggle Narrows

Forty-eight hours before the voting, it was a struggle between Reece and Danaher, with no other names being mentioned. But after a day of hot campaigning among the national committeemen, it became evident to all Reece would win. Reece not only had his southern bloc of votes, based on his Tennessee residence, but a mass support from the westerners who were determined that the chairmanship "should not go east."

About 1 p. m. Sunday, the day before the vote, strange things began to happen. The old Willkie-Weeks crowd brought forward John Hanes, the New York "financier-industrialist," as the papers called him. Stassen's floor managers started vigorously campaigning in the hotel lobby and the Minnesota ex-governor held a sort of campaign court in his suite upstairs. Some other new names were brought into campaigning, including Wherry of Nebraska. It was evident the opposition to Reece was trying to break up his support by putting up new men who might draw votes away from him.

This worked only to the extent of delaying the Reece election from the first ballot, where it might ordinarily have occurred, to the third, when the score stood Reece 58, Danaher 22 and Hanes 21. Stassen covered his defeat by announcing the election did not mean anything regarding policy, and he would cooperate.

But it does mean something, as subsequent events immediately began to demonstrate. A vacancy on the executive committee was to be filled. To this place, the committee elected West Virginia's Walter Hallanan, a powerful party leader who had been eased off the national committee by Dewey after the last Chicago convention. Hallanan had been conspicuously snubbed by Dewey there. When Dewey was meeting the national committeemen in groups, Hallanan, who rated a private conference as a leader, was called in with the least important group of committeemen. Thereafter he stepped down. Then Reece's campaign manager, Clarence Brown of Ohio (good friend of the Taft-Bricker crowd) was chosen chairman of the executive committee.

Swing Into Control

These inner events show without a doubt control of the Republican party has been taken by the congressional group, with particular eminence for the Taft-Bricker people, and to the setting back of both Stassen and Dewey. This is not an unreasonable, or unhappy development for the party as the campaign ahead involves no national candidates, but only congressmen. Furthermore, as little gore was shed in the melee, there is every prospect of genuine unity between the party regulars in congress, the Taft-Bricker forces, Stassen, and Dewey.

I hear further Dewey has recently enhanced his chances of reelection this year as governor of New York. His popularity has been improved by his handling of the O'Dwyer New York city subway, tax and other matters.

Unless Farley runs against him, the wisest of political owls are saying Dewey will win, and if Farley does not get into the race on the Democratic side but lets the nomination go to Mead or Johnson (O'Dwyer's campaign manager) it will be a sign Dewey will not be required to strain himself.

A FLIER IN POLITICS

In Los Angeles, Douglas Corrigan has announced his candidacy for the United States senate.

Candidate Corrigan will be remembered as the flier who, back in 1938, left New York for California and landed in Ireland. With such a background, it was inevitable that he should feel that his rightful place is in congress.

Incidentally, there are those who hold that what congress lacks is not so much a sense of direction as of responsibility.

Even now, in fact, unmindful of the furor which attended his precedent in the field of pigs, Henry Wallace is suggesting that the Democratic party remedy the situation by plowing under a few congressmen.

Be that as it may, Wrong Way Corrigan is running on a prohibition platform, a circumstance which, if he wins, will endear him to Washington hostesses. Dries are in the ascendancy socially if not politically in the capital just now, the whisky shortage being what it is.

There's one thing about it: As an aviator, Corrigan will feel right at home on Capitol Hill. Senator Bilbo, for instance is up in the air most of the time.

Ford Theater As Shrine

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Between now and April 14, the 81st anniversary of the assassination of President Lincoln, Senator Milton R. Young (R-ND) will try to get action on a resolution which would lead to the restoration of Ford's theater.

The senator could use a little help from any of those patriots or societies who believe in the preservation of the relics of our history.

Senator Young said, when he introduced his resolution: "A visit to Washington is to many an American family an experience of a lifetime, long planned for and undertaken with a singleness of purpose and a sincerity of interest. To visit the Lincoln memorial, the Capitol and the White House are great experiences in the lives of many of our people.

"To those who love Lincoln, a visit to Ford's theater is another experience long anticipated. But in visiting Ford's theater, they feel a distinct disappointment. They do not see the theater at all.

"Although 81 years have elapsed since that tragic event, it is not too late to bring back to the American people a vision of exactly what occurred. The home in which he died, located at 516 Tenth street, is a Lincoln shrine and is intact. It is very unfortunate that the theater across he street is not also intact."

To this, I can only add Amen. A visit to Ford's, where you pay your dime at the door, is a very distinct disappointment. It bears little resemblance to a theater. Glass cases are scattered around.

Black lines mark the columns at the base of what was the box where President Lincoln sat watching Laura Keane's performance in "Our American Cousin" when John Wilkes Booth shot him. Other black lines mark out Booth's footsteps as he fled across the stage.

One can reconstruct the tragedy better in his mind's eye if he doesn't go to the theater at all.

Senator Young's resolution would have the Department of Interior estimate the cost of restoring the theater to an exact duplication of what it was on that night in 1865.

The govenment has at its fingertips all the material to make that restoration possible.

Even if it didn't, it would have two excellent blueprints turned out by those veteran and meticulous researchers, the movie moguls.

In 1924 the Rockett Brothers producei their "Abrabam Lincoln." So realistic was their reproduction of the interior of Ford's theater that members of the audience on that fatal night who were still living in 1924 could find nothing but praise for it.

Smoke Control

Campaigns against the smoke nuisance are reported in several cities by the American Municipal Association.

Pittsburgh discovered its smoke stacks released 67,000 tons of soot every year, 500 pounds for every house and lot in the community. The city is now enforcing an ordinance similar to one adopted in St. Louis where all stacks must be equipped with smoke-consuming devices if smokeless fuel is not used

The mayor of St. Louis has written to 14 railroads and 40 industrial concerns urging cooperative effort and the exchange of smoke control information. Initial progress has been made in rail yards where six coal burning switch engines have been replaced with diesels.

On the west coast, where wartime industrial expansion has put new emphasis on smoke-control, Los Angeles county recently bolstered its smoke abatement law with a new regulation.

Chicago's enlarged smoke inspection staff tagged 114 smoke ordinance violators during January. A $5 fine for first offenders is standard. Chicago's municipal combination engineer blames railroads for 25 per cent of the city's annual $35,000,000 smoke damage.

Birmingham, Ala., hopes to lessen its smoke nuisance by improving combustion methods on home-heating units. In Indianapolis, an 11-man smoke control board has been created and the appointment of a full time combustion engineer is pending. In Youngstown, the municipal smoke-abatement committee has called in a team of engineers to study means of eliminating smoke in that city.

Ceremonies will culminate in special commencement exercises on June 10, the exact anniversary date. The collage has a normal enrollment of 800 students.

Sunday School Week Scheduled

National Sunday School Week will be observed throughout the country the week of April 8, it was announced by Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, chairman, the Laymen's National Committee, which is sponsoring the movement.

Its purpose, according to Rear Admiral Belknap, is to develop a serious acknowledgment that every parent owes his child a knowledge of God.

The movement is fostered by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization with headquarters at the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York City, now entering its seventh year of operation.

It represents an additional annual activity of the committee, an organization of patriotic American men and women who sponsor National Bible Week the third week in October each year.

Our Foreign Responsibilities

By Raymond Moley

WE, the people of the United States, can hardly be called an ungenerous lot. We have in the past given liberally to help the less fortunate and now we will cheerfully give food to help carry the world through a three-months' spell of hunger. While we are doing so, however, it may not be amiss to think through the permanent responsibility we have in such situations. For we are setting serious precedents these days.

The development of our sense of world responsibility has been going on for three or four decades. In the Nineteenth Century we heard much about famines in India, China, Russia and elsewhere. Private organizations helped, and the public sympathized. But we felt no national responsibility.

Aid for Japan

We took a lively official part in relieving Japanese suffering at the time of the earthquake in 1922. Our helping hand was badly bitten in the years that followed, and the biggest bite was at Pearl Harbor

Between the wars, we helped in the unsettled affairs of Europe Under the Dawes Plan, cash loans were made, with cuttings in the debts owed to us. We tried to help Britain, France, Italy, et al to enable them to ease their pressure on Germany. When world affairs trembled in 1931, President Hoover put through the moratorium on debt payments. This moratorium ended in default. Only a few millions were ever paid thereafter. The indirect help given to Germany was used by Hitler to destroy the peace of the world. We were paid back in death and destruction.

We paid bitterly for giving without plan or policy. We gave and we did not see to it that our gifts really helped build a safe world.

Now we are inevitably moving into a new era of world responsibility. But neither in giving food nor in lending money are we fitting our generous impulses into a pattern of consistent policy. Whoever says that giving should be a two-way street is shouted down as an isolationist or a Snylock. Nevertheless, food - giving and money-lending for short or long periods should be woven into a permanent policy to govern our world relations. As a starter in such a policy, three minimum standards might be adopted:

1. There should be no gifts or credit with "waiver clauses," unless we have absolute assurance that the receiving nation will not increase its military potential without our full agreement. So far, only France has acknowledged that its economic situation does not justify the maintenance of a large army.

2. No "waiver" loans or gifts should be given to nations which do not conclusively establish that they will use the values received for the purpose of working back to a self-sustaining basis. We should not help a nation to socialize its economic system.

3. After a period of, say, a year and a half, we should make our loan policy a straight business proposition. In short, we should be assured of getting our values back within the generation.

These are not Uncle Snylock conditions. They are reasonable provisions for a world based on the principle of mutual responsibilities.

So They Say

President Harry S. Truman—"The international economic cooperation which is the keynote of our economic foreign policy must accompany international political cooperation, and we must achieve both if world peace is to be enduring."

Herbert Hoover, former president and honorary chairman of the Famine Emergency Committee—"The fate of civilization depends on whether the American pople are willing to make a sacrifice for the next four months, if they are willing to save the world from chaos."

Anthony Eden, acting leader of England's Conservative party—"It is our aim, as a party to develop the science of government so that the full benefits that can be achieved by modern administration may be freely available to every individual."

David Zaslavsky, one of Russia's most prominent commentators on foreign affairs—"The old bourgeois democracy and the new Soviet democracy proved they could work together against a common enemy, who believes that, given good will, they can not work together in peace time against new reactionary aggression?"

Mother Goose Rhymes Hit

PORTLAND, Me.—Mother Goose rhymes we assailed as "painful monstrocities" here recen at a meeting of the Main Poetry Fellowship

Albert R. Thayer, professor of English Bowdoin College, criticized both the rhymes the propensity of parents for passing them to their children. He termed them "prevent grammar" and "excruciating rhymes" as well the "painful monstrosities" of the past.

"Night after night," he said, "well-intention parents are engaging antipoetic Indoctrina by means of these favorites." This early me of inculcating children with bad rhyme, added, has such lasting effects that schools not successful in overcoming a false taste.

Man Who Wrecked Greece Gets Rebuilding Job

Ten-Year Job

Doxiadis believes it will take 10 years of the hardest kind of work and 600,000,000 dollars to restore his ruined homeland. He estimates Greece, who held a grenade to her own breast to help her Allies, can supply only one-tenth of this capital and that the rest must come from gifts and loans from friendly countries.

"If they cannot pay with money they should do so in materials and machinery," he said.

"We are not asking for this help as beggars. Nor do we ask for it helplessly sitting down and weeping over our ruins. But this time help from abroad is essential."

Second of a Series

The main area of ruin is in Epirus along the Albanian border, 65 per cent of which Doxiadis estimated was caused by Italians and 35 per cent by Albanian bands which moved in with German occupying forces.

Transportation Needed

"As they destroyed forests, brick, cement and tile plants as well as villages and farm buildings" he said, "our greatest problem is to transport materials. We must organize a colossal transportation system to haul building materials 150 miles instead of the 10 or 15 miles that would be necessary if they hadn't razed local buildings and industries."

He said this would require 1,000 trucks and that 235,000 building trades workers in addition to those already in Greece were needed to solve the skilled labor shortage.

"Our third problem is supplies and we especially need lumber, steel, iron plumbing and electrical equipment."

"We hope to do more than just rebuild Greece. We want to build it better than it was."

Court Rules Damages on Fraudulent Sales

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 4—Anyone defrauded in purchasing an article may recover what he paid for it plus damages penalizing the seller, says Ohio's supreme court.

The court so ruled yesterday in ordering a new trial in the case of Elizabeth Saberton of Cincinnati against Harold Greenwald, who sold her a reconditioned watch as new.

The Hamilton county court had awarded her only $58.15, the price paid for the watch. The Ohio tribunal held the trial court had erred in not permitting a jury to consider the additional sum she sought as punishment.

Keytown Camp Cabin Damaged by Blaze

A loss of $300 resulted when a cabin at the Keytown Camp, approximately one mile south of Marion on route 23, caught fire from a water heater, at 8:33 a. m. today. The fire started in a lean-to section at the rear of the cabin and was put out before great damage had been done to the sleeping quarters. Three tourists who had occupied the cabin left shortly before the fire broke out. The chief's car and firemen from Central responded.

BOOMING TAXES MAY CUT DEBT

Experts Predict U. S. Deficit May Be Wiped Out in 1946-47 Period.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—The federal deficit may be cut to around $22,000,000,000 for this fiscal year and wiped out in 1946-47, government economists estimated today.

Treasury technicians now believe tax receipts for the year ending June 30 will run 2 to 3 billion dollars higher than was foreseen in January, when President Truman's budget message went to congress.

Cuts in federal spending, made more rapidly than anticipated because of speedier demobilization and reduction in military expenditures, will save the government a sum about as large, reported these officials who may not be quoted by name.

"This is a conservative estimate, but it appears that the total deficit will be at least 5 or 6 billion dollars less than the $28,000,000,000 deficit originally estimated," said one White House advisor.

"If business activity holds up and if congress does not dip too deeply into the treasury on new appropriation bills, the present tax rates should easily balance the budget in the fiscal year starting July 1."

The President's budget message of Jan. 21 estimated a deficit of $4,300,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, but Mr. Truman said this would be met by tapping "the very substantial balance" that would exist in the treasury.

The quarterly report of Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, issued yesterday at the White House, stated that this year's federal deficit would be "several billion dollars less than was anticipated," because the high level of national income and production were maintaining federal tax collections at a good rate while war outlays were being reduced rapidly.

Experts Say Distant Damage by Atomic Tidal Wave Unlikely

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

DAYTON, O., April 4—Exploding an atomic bomb under water is expected by scientists to cause a tidal wave. But this wave is not necessarily big enough to equal the tidal wave caused by the underground quake off Alaska. An earthquake is usually a far greater disturbance than the explosion of an atomic bomb. The quake is not as violent over a short distance but is likely to spread over a much larger area.

One of the first atomic predictions in 1939 was its use to cause tidal waves that might seriously damage nearby coastal cities. This prediction was made to President Roosevelt in a letter written by Dr. Leo Szilard, University of Chicago, and presented to the President by Alexander Sachs of New York. This letter was one of the reasons that led Roosevelt to initiate the atomic bomb research with government support in 1939.

May Be Too Far Out

Szilard's prediction was for waves that would affect coasts close to the place where the atomic bomb was exploded. Physicists have not, so far as reported, completed their calculations as to what sort of tidal wave may be caused by the underwater bomb proposed to be exploded a half mile under water in 1947. None have indicated a belief that the tidal waves would be big enough to affect seriously distant shores, like that of the American west coast, if the bomb is exploded in the central Pacific.

The first explosion at Bikini atoll about July 1 this year is not expected to produce serious waves, because it will be exploded at least hundreds of feet in the air. The second explosion is planned either at the surface of the water or under water in the atoll.

But the waves are not expected to be serious at long distance from the atoll. For one reason, the atoll is a ring of islands on which any waves may be expected to break and lose much of their force. The explosion at the surface might raise a wave of not more than fifty feet high. After breaking on the atoll islands, this wave still could travel a long distance but hardly displacing enough volume of water to reach any civilized shores and possibly not enough to be a serious menace to any nearby islands.

If the second Bikini atoll bomb is exploded under water, there is still the ring of islands to break the force and also to reduce greatly the volume of water affected after the first wave breaks on the ring of islands.

WAVE LOSS SET AT 10 MILLION

Tiny Cottages and Luxurious Homes Share in Damage; Death Toll Soars.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, April 4—Property damage wrought by the Pacific's tidal waves was estimated at $10,000,000 in the Hawaiian islands today as businessmen and owners of tiny beach cottages and $60,000 luxury homes counted their losses.

The death toll in the islands rose to 88 with the finding of five more bodies at Hilo, bringing that city's total to 58. Sixty-nine were missing: 59 of them from the island of Hawaii. In other areas of the eastern Pacific, 12 persons drowned. Thus, 169 persons in all may have lost their lives.

Monday's immense waves also hit Tahiti, the Aleutians, California and South America but the greatest loss of life and property occurred in the Hawaiian islands.

The search for the missing—including 23 school children—continued by sea and air. Supplies of food and clothing poured into the stricken seaport city of Hilo, partially wrecked as the full force of the tidal waves crashed through its funnel-like harbor.

Throughout the islands, property owners and city, county and territorial officials made sketchy estimates of damage to inundated hotels and yacht clubs, stores and warehouses, sugar plantations, shipping, army and navy installations, utilities, communications and railways.

The most spectacular damage to beautiful waterfront estates occurred in the fashionable Koko Head area on Oahu. Police estimated damage to homes, each worth $50,000 or more, at $1,000,000.

The homeless were being quartered in camps, with the Army, Navy and Red Cross supplying food, clothing and medicine.

FLYING ICE PLANT TESTS JET ENGINES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 4 — The "flying ice plant," a B-24 Liberator bomber, is hauling a jet engine around the upper atmosphere over northern Ohio these days, deliberately making ice form on the jet's big mouth.

When clouds are available, nature provides its own ice. When there are no clouds, the crew manufactures them by squirting a fine spray from tanks in the plane. The low temperature of two or three miles altitude does the rest.

The project is being run by the Cleveland engine research laboratory of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, to study ice formations on turbo-jet engines, as well as means to prevent icing.

The B-24's four conventional engines supply the actual flying power. Built into the fuselage is a general electric turgo-jet engine of the 1-16 centrifugal compressor type. Hooked to this jet engine are numerous recording devices, and a camera takes a running record of the dials and instruments.

Ice makes jet engines too hot. It clogs the wire protecting screen over the huge intake and reduces the flow of air. The jet engine needs air not only for combustion but also for cooling. Because the jet runs at very high temperature even under normal conditions, any reduction of air intake makes it overheat and burn out rapidly. The laboratory wants to know how to go about preventing that.
